SOME OF THE CANDIDATES.

Elisha P. Ferry, the Republican nominee for Governor, began his pub lic career by the practice of law at Waukeegan, Illinois, in 1846, where he liligently followed his profession for thirteen years, being elected during that time Mayor of that city, and twice Presidential elector from the Congressonal district in which he resided. He was a member of the Constitutional Convention of Illinois, in 1861, and during the war served on the staff of General Yates, organizing several regments of volunteer troops. Governor erry came to this Territory about 20 rears ago, as Surveyor General. While in that position he was appointed Gov the expiration of his second term as executive, he moved to Seattle, and be-McNaught, Ferry, McNaught & Mitchell. He will make an active canvass, and it behooves the Democrats to pit their best man against him. Allen Weir, the candidate for Secre tary of State, is a self-made man, in the meridian of life, against whom it will be extremely difficult to say anything very damaging. He graduated and embellished by all the art which at the Olympia Institute, stuck type for some time on the STANDARD, went 6 to Port Townsend about ten years ago, bought the Argus, and did that rare thing in the conduct of backwoods newspapers, made it pay. A few months ago he sold his paper, and has since been browsing around in political fields, examining the fences. He was a member of the Constitutional Convention. He is decidedly a Pacific Coaster, having been born in California 35 years ago.

Olympia Rolies Upon True Merit.

Is it on account of geographical po sition? A study of the map of our country will show that other consider tions must have almost invariable ontrolled a choice; and if, before the telegraph had annihilated time and the railroads shortened distances, true ousiness centers were selected for the main wheels of the governmental system, how much more now should such considerations affect a choice when metes and bounds? Olympia is, to-day, the point that will best subserve business interests as the State caption on the great Puget Sound: the nearest point to the magnificent country bordering on the mighty Columbia iver; the most accessible to the thrivng communities of the ocean counies and Gray's Harbor, and equally accessible from Eastern Washington as any other point west of the mountains with a rapidly developing country such as the whole Sound, coast and river districts presents, where is there rival which can present a tithe of hese most weighty of considerations for preference? The tests will be made at their respective cities, the measure ments to be taken in each city and transferred by telegraph. The Fidalgo Brick and Tile Company with headquaters near Anacortes, on Fidalgo island, will begin burning brick next week. Machinery capable of turning out 40,000 brick per day was shipped to the island last week, and the plant it is expected, will be doubled, so that running at high pressure 100,000 brick can be made daily. A pressed brick machine is part of the equipment. All the product will be shipped to Seattle, although they could find sale in Whatcom. In three weeks Fidalgo is land will be contributing supplies for the famished builders of Seattle brick
