ABOUT THE WASHINGTON JOURNAL OF ENVIRONMENTAL LAW & POLICY

The Washington Journal of Environmental Law & Policy at the University of Washington School of Law is a publication dedicated to highlighting and adding to the body of environmental legal scholarship in the Pacific Northwest and beyond. Founded in 2009, we work to compliment the University of Washington's outstanding record on environmental sustainability and the University of Washington School of Law's commitment to training the next generation of environmental legal practitioners, scholars, and policymakers.

Above all else, The Washington Journal of Environmental Law and Policy is made possible by students who care about the environment and the law.

COVID-19 Disclosure

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Washington Journal of Environmental Law and Policy staff was unable to access libraries in order to obtain physical resources of some sources available only in hard copy. While the inability to access these sources did impact the editorial staff's ability to properly check the few statements that relied upon these sources, the staff made every effort to use context and alternative sources to verify the statements. Based on the few citations impacted, and the additional research by staff, the board ultimately decided in favor of publishing.
