The Loaves and Fishes Dished Out Satisfactorily to the Republicans.

The Convention at Colfax Nominates a Strong Ticket-List of the Nominees.

Opinions of Leading Politicians of the Candidates and Their Chances of Success.

What Other Conventions All Over the Territory Were Doing for Their Party.

COLFAX, Aug. 31.—Complete harmony and a well defined spirit of fairness in the distribution of the loaves and fishes marked the republican convention held here Wednesday, and it is a subject of remark that no more harmonious gathering of the kind was ever held in Whitman county. A strong ticket was nom-inated, and the party goes into the campaign in good fighting trim, "loaded for bear." Following is the ticket:

Clerk-J. E. Ballaine, Endicott. Clerk—J. E. Ballaine, Endicott.
Delegates to state convention—F. W.
Brecker, M. A. Fullerton, M. Ettinger,
J. W. Arrasmith, John Patterson, H. H.
Spauldidg, A. L. Mills, George P. Howard, Ivan Chase, Thomas Neil, D. F. Anderson, T. H. Logsdon, J. N. Pocock, T. P. Connel, C. H. Farnsworth,
W. H. Renfrew, C. M. Stearns,
William Chambers, C. W. Richards, J. C. Turner. The delegation is strong in favor of Mark A. Fullerton, of this place, for one of the supreme judges, and will doubtless support W.
H. Pritchard, of Tacoma, for another.
For congressman the delegation is somewhat divided, with a probable majority for Dumbar. It is understood that the legislative ticket favors Allen for one of the senators, with no expressed choice for the other, except it is conceded to the section west of the mountains. For the section west of the mountains. For state officers there is thus far no ex-pressed preference. The state capital location is attracting considerable attention in this county, and there is a grow-ing sentiment in favor of Yakima as the most likely candidate in the race.

What the Republicans Think of the Work of the County Convention. The ticket nominated by the late re publican county convention is regarded by leading members of the party as the strongest that could have been put for-ward, and a party never entered a campaign with greater promise of victory.
REVIEW reporters have asked the opin-ions of a large number of republicans within the past two days and failed to find a single one who was not satisfied with the nominations. Of the many ex-pressions received the following will serve to show with what satisfaction the serve to show with what satisfaction the ticket is regarded by leading members of the party.

S. C. Hyde: The ficket is a good one, pspecially the legislative part of it, and that is the most important part and the one on which the most interest centered.

H. E. Houghton: A ticket of great strength and one which will be elected.

W.M. Ridpath: It is a ticket which will be endorsed at the polls. My election as be endorsed at the polls. My election as chairman of the county central commit-tee was a surprise to me, but with the right kind of co-operation on the part of the members of the county central committee, we will close the campaign with

Hon. John L. Wilson: The ticket is Hon, John L. Wilson: The ticket is one of the strongest and best ever presented to the voters of Spokane county.

Frank A. Wilcox: The ticket is first-class—one of the very best that could possibly have been nominated, and will be elected.

E. B. Hyde: A good ticket. I don't think the convention could have done better. It is a clean ticket and will be elected.

Hon. Paul Strobach: The ticket gives general satisfaction and is undoubtedly a strong one.

Governor George E. Cole: The ticket suits me as well as any one that could have been gotten up; I regard it as a strong ticket, and the convention is to be complimented upon the result of their work. I am confident that the ticket will be carried.

General A. P. Curry: The ticket is an General A. P. Curry: The ticket is an exceptionally strong one, and I don't think any stronger ticket could be put up; I have talked with quite a few republicans from the country precincts and they all express themselves as highly pleased with the result of the convention. There is possibly one candidate on the ticket who may not run asstrong as the balance of the ticket, but you can rest assured that the republican ticket will be carried in this county by a large majority.

Maj. E. A. Routhe: The ticket is a splendid one; I doubt if I could be better pleased if I should have made up the ticket myself and had the naming of candidates within my power. The candidates are all representative citizens as well as representative republicans, and I didates are all representative citizens as well as representative republicans, and I have no doubt but that every good re-publican will be highly pleased with the ticket, and will give it a hearty support

WASHINGTON REPUBLICANS.

A Communication From President McMicken, Who Will Soon Resign. Paul Strobach, sr., of this city, vice-president of the republican league of Washington, is in receipt of the follow-ing communication from General Wil-liam McMicken: OLYMPIA, Aug. 27.—Hon. Paul Stro-bach, Spokane Falls—Dear Sir: Realizbach, Spokane Falls—Dear Sir: Realiz-ing the near approach of an active polit-ical campaign, the result of which may prove more important to the future wel-fare of our young and promising state, than any which has ever preceded it, I therefore desire to carnestly call your attention to the necessity of a more per-fect organization of the republican forces throughout the territory.

Our territorial and county republican leagues should at once be revived, their membership increased and, if necessary, membership increased and, if necessary, reorganize for the most active and efficient work. For this purpose, I would respectfully urge the importance of a full attendance of the owentive committee at the territorial cone anton to be held at Walla Walla, September 4, 1889, (or on some day during the session of convention) for the purpose of reorganization, as at that time I shall tender my resignation to your honorable committee so that the vacancy can be filled as provided by article 8 of our constitution.

For this reason the center of population will be found south of the geographical center. Every citizen of Eastern Washington should be interested in this question. It is unjust that we should be compelled to traverse almost the entire length of the state and cross a range of mountains to reach the capital, and unless the voters of Eastern Washington concentrate their votes upon some point, this state of affairs is likely to continue. As Yakima is entirely unobjectionable as to surroundings, her central position should give her the preference.

The latest manifesto promises to de-velop into an organized crusade against capitalists generally. The strikers ad-here to their full demands, though the countenances of many who enter and depart from the relief committee's rooms plainly reveals sharp privation. A Neat and Clever Cspture.

Marquette, Mich., Aug. 31.—The method by which the capture was effected was as clever and neat as the bandit's own exploits had been daring and astounding. He applied at a Republic house for lodging and was assigned to a room. It was about 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon when he arrived there. He ate supper and an hour later was shown to his room. The landlord observed a striking barmony with the description of the village marshal, who also had been notified by E. E. Weisner, a justice of the peace. Weisner had met the man on the street. It was, therefore, considered best to wait until morning, and a plan of capture was quickly determined upon. Holzsay arose at 6 o'clock, ate a light breakfast and paid his bill. He had a checkered quilt rolled up and bound with small rope. In this improvised griphe carried a change of clothing. Slipping the bundle over his shoulder he started off, intending to make for a Wisconsin lumber camp. Officers Glade and Weisner were awaiting his appearance on the street. The plats thus withdrawn from use had been on file for withdrawn from use had been on file for a long time—some of them for several years—and filing and entries by settlers had been made in accordance therewith, and in some instances patents had been issued for lands, after the required residence under the homestead and preemption laws. In many other cases persons living within these townships had complied with the law for the required period, and had submitted, or were about to submit, proof in support of their claims.

General Wanamaker and President Norvin Green had a consultation, last evening, respecting the telegraph service furnished the government by the Western Union Telegraph Company. While the details of the plan have not been arranged, it is understood that satisfactory progress is being made toward an agreement upon lines laid down by the postimator-general. The question of rates to the government for telegraph service is the point at issue, but hy no means the principal question, as Postimaster-General Wanamaker's plans contemplate a considerable enlargement of the functions of the postofile department in the diffection of co-operation with the telegraph companies to secure cheaper and no confirmation of it is obtainable.

It may be that the surveys are as defective as the special agent reported them to be, and possibly even worse. I have made inquiry, however, of a great many persons acquainted with the section lines or corners, found in these townships and have not yet met any person other than special agent Martin who has found any defects in the surveys.

In conformity with the urgent requests of settlers and others interested, permit me to again respectfully suggest that the order withdrawing these township plats from use be revoked, or that the work of examination in the field be commenced and carried forward as speedily as possible. Very respectfully,

In response to the foregoing letter the commissioner at Washington has addressed the register on the subject referred to, and has modified the order of withdrawal so as to "allow all persons who, prior to the date of the order, had inaugurated claims, in specar and complete their entries by making the proper proof, and payment,"

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—The committee appointed by the commercial conference yesterday to formulate a plan for organizing a Pacific coast chamber of commerce met to-day. Mr. Collyer, of Tacoma, who was the originator of the idea, stated his views. He thought the commercial interests of Scattle, Portland, Tacoma, San Diego and San Pedro were identical, and organization of this kind would promote those interests. William Kapus, of the Portland board of trade, moved that temporary organization of A FINE HOTEL Tacoma, who was the originator of the idea, stated his views. He thought the commercial interests of Seattle, Portland, Tacoma, San Diego and San Pedro were identical, and organization of this kind would promote those interests. William Kapus, of the Portland board of trade, moved that temporary organization of the Pacific coast chamber—of commerce be proceeded with, which was done. Henry L. Dodge, of San Francisco, was appointed president; Samuel Collyer, of Tacoma, first vice-president; E. W. Holmes, of the Los Angeles board, second vice-president; E. W. Holmes, of the Los Angeles board, second vice-president; treasurer, the Sather Banking Company, of San Francisco; secretary, Thomas J. Haynes, of San Francisco. The president and secretary; together with Messrs. Kapus, of Portland, Collyers, of Tacoma and Lindley, of Los Angeles, were appointed a consmittee to draft a constitution. It was reserved that each commercial body shall be represented by one delegate-at-large, one for each fifty members of said body, one for each fifty members of said To be Completed in Sixty Days-The Hotel Spokane. is to be built has not, as yet, been made public. SALEM, Orc., Aug. 31.—A bold robbery was committed last night near Silverton, 12 miles east of here. Frank M. Albaugh, a farmer near MacLeay, had sold this season's wheat at the latter place to the amount of $1100, receiving a bank check, which he went to Silverton to have cashed. The money was all gold which he placed in his pockets, mounted his horse and started homeward about dusk. He proceeded some three miles, and coming to a bridge over Drift creek he was met by two men who presented revolvers and

The first floor will be used for stores, the second for offices, and the three upper floors will be leased by the hotel proprietors. So that to all intents and purposes Mr. Dodd's building will be a part of the hotel. In order to give access to the hotel from Front street it will be necessary to fill up the deep gulch, which is now being done at a rapid rate, and the great task will be accomplished by the time the hotel is completed. When the hotel is ready for business, the Ross Park Electric Street usiness, the Ross Park Electric Street Railway Company will extend their line down Front street, past the hotel, to a junction with the cable road on Monroe street.

J. M. Buckley, superintendent of construction on the Spokane & Northern railway, informs the REVIEW that the Colville stage will on Monday begin naking connection with the passenger trains of the road at Springdale, which is located on Walker's Prairie, at Squire's ranch, where the railroad crosses the Colville wagon road, fortyeight miles from Spokane Falls. The grade is completed to Colville, and the track is laid about fifty-seven miles from this city. The tracklayers are putting down the rails at the rate of from 6000 to 8000 feet per day. When Mr. Buckley began building the road he said he was going to send it right through he was going to send it right through, and the work already completed proves that he meant what he said, and is an evidence of how quickly a railroad can be built when the job is under the personal supervision of a man who understands his business. A new time card, which goes into effect on the Spokane & Northern to-day, can be found elsewhere in the Review. in the REVIEW.

Maloney, of Ellensburgh, general manager of the Ellensburgh & Northeastern railway, now in course of construction between Ellensburgh and the Columbia river, is in the city. He says the road will be completed to Port Eaton, on the Columbia river, in the early spring, and that the ultimate terminus of the road is to form a junction with the Central Washington in the Big Bend region. The latter road leaves the Bend region. The latter road leaves the Northern Pacific at Cheney. ON TO DAVENPORT.

ON TO DAVENPORT.
Frank L. Dallam, editor of the Lincoln County Times, who came over from Davenport yesterday, informs the Review that the Scattle, Lake Shore & Eastern, which is as yet six miles from Davenport, will be built to that place at once, and that a large force of man will begin work during the present week. THE ROCKFORD BRANCH.

A large force of men began laying rack on the Rockford branch Friday morning, near Rockford, and are com-ing toward Spokane Falls at a rapid rate. In the course of a few weeks trains will be running on this road, and Spokane Falls will then have communication with the outside world over an-other great transcontinental route.

FROM THE MINES.

The Grouse-Morning--Evening--Iron Crown--Just What--You Like. [From the Mullan-Tribune, Aug. 29.] On Wednesday morning we started on a tour of Chloride Hill. Starting short-ly after sunrise, on board our festive cayuse, we climbed up the new Morning wagon road around its various switch backs until we arrived at the last turn directly above town where we left the wagon road and took a well trodden pack trail heading for THE GROUSE,

On arriving at the above property we were disappointed to find neither Mr. McLean nor Foreman Jennings at home, but Mr. James McLean kindly escorted us through the mine. When we last visited this property hardly any ore was in sight, but very promising indications were nevalent.

A report came in on Friday that a rich strike had been made, and to satisfy ourselves as to the truth of it, we made this trip.

Mr. McLeau first took us into the cross-cut from the main tunnel, and ata distance of about 150 feet showed us a ledge of good concentrating steel galena four feet in width, and at least two feet of which was good sacking ore. The ore is exactly of the same grade and forma-tion as that taken out of the Morning. This ledge is running parallel with the main ledge, but a distance of 350 feet from it. In itself the showing would warrant Mr. McLean's taking up the bond. But two monster mogul locomotives, will running a tunnel toward the Morning rive in Spokane Falls this (Sunday) lode, which it was thought cut the one going through the fleshy part of Albaugh's left hand and the other passing through his coat and vest and striking a gold watch in his vest pocket which they had not taken. At this time the second robber struck Albaugh from behind, knocking him down and when he regained his feet the robbers were running for the thick brush and he proceeded homeward. Albaugh is in this city to-night, but whether any clue exists to the robbers cannot be ascertained. It was pretty dark when the deed was committed, and a 'though the fellows wore no masks, Albaugh doubts his ability to identify purchased.

FROM COLVILLE. Increasing Business Creates a Building Boom-The Railroad. From a gentleman who came in from Colville yesterday the Review learns that that thriving town is having a building boom. At least it looks so to the casual looker-on. The business of the town has increased so rapidly of late that the many business houses have been filled with new establishments of trade and traffic and the increasing growth of the town in this direction has created a demand for more and larger buildings. As a consequence also many residences are going up and the city is spreading out in the spirit of a generous enthusiastic municipality.

The party boarded one of the Casco Bay Company's boats, and when about half way to the city a great commotion was suddenly caused among the passengers by the appearance of a green snake crawling upon the deck. Ladies screamed and jumped upon the seats or fled incontinently, and some of the sterner sex were somewhat taken by surprise at the sight of a scrpent in that unexpected place. The young woman, as soon as she realized the situation, sprang to recover her property, but too late. A boat hand pitched the reptile overboard and science had met with another loss.

Select the Most Probable and Stand

Firm. [From the Palouse Gazette.] While North Yakima may not be the choice of everyone for capital honors, or even the choice of the majority of voters, it is certain that no one can raise any weighty objection thereto. The city is beautifully laid out with wide streets and boulevards; streams of pure water flow along the principal streets; lines of shade trees stand guard along the busy thoroughfares, and water power is adequate for manufacturing purposes, while deposits of coal, iron and copper in the surrounding country are practically inexhaustible. Her people are energetic and cultured and possess all the perquisites of a well regulated busines community. It is very important that the change, if made at all, be made in the near future. Towns which know they can not get the capital should withdraw from the race, as it will only aid in deferring the location by voting on too many places. The city chosen must have a majority of all the votes cast, and if each town should vote for itself there would be a large and prosperous a should be a large and

Nevertheless they did not ask or did they expect one dollar's worth of assistance, but commenced at once to rebuild their town with by far better and moresubstantial buildings.

POLITICAL. The present campaign and the coming The present campaign and the coming election are the principal topics of conversation with the people at present. As far as could be learned the majority of the voters are in favor of adopting the constitution, are opposed to woman suffrage and prohibition, and considerably divided on the location of the capital, with perhaps a majority in favor of North Yakima.

Justice Field's Brother.

David Dudley Field was in Chicago a few days ago, as president of the American Law Association. Mr. Field's view on the recent killing of Judge Terry in California, and the latter's assault upon his brother, Justice Field, do not appear to be based by any personal feeling in the matter. "It suggests to a thing to which too little attention has been paid, "he says," "and that is the almost total lack of superior respect that I think is due the United States bench. Democracy has gone somewhat too far. The supreme bench is, in a way, one of the coordinate parts of this government. It is entitled to respect as such. In a measure it should be esteemed and held as inviolate' as the executive. The same causes that contribute to our special respect for the executive should also lead the American people to a proper regard for the lench. It does not appear to do so. The supreme and United States judges must be protected by the government when it is necessary."

Mr. Field and General W. T. Sherman had some conversation yesterday in reference to the assault in which Gen.

man's letter to the attorney-general of California instructing him to quash the indictment against Nagle justified from a legal point of view, as he shares the opinion of General Butler, "General Uniter," he says, "affirms that an individual would have been called upon to show that his or the life of those in his charge was in imminent danger from violence at the hands of the assailant, but in the present case it was wholly within the discretion of Nagle to decide the point."

Prairie fires in the neighborhood of Chewiah have recently best doing mischief to the farmers in a manner that is in no way pleasant. Mr. Field and General W. T. Shorman had some conversation yesterday in reference to the assault, in which General Sherman expressed the same views. "In this country," said General Sherman, "we find almost none of the respect paid royalty in foreign countries, and I don't think it altogether for the best. It is something particularly due the supreme bench, and I am of the opinion that this episode has been a good lesson."
