SPOKANE FALLS NOV. 7, 1889 ADMISSIONS PAST AND PRES-

Washington's admission into the union of states is attended by circumstances and conditions in sharp and interesting contrast to those governing the entrance of her Pacific coast sisters. September 9, 1850, the date of California's admission, saw that state in a condition of feverishness which only a great mining exfree life of the placer camps; ships lay idly rocking in the harbor of San Francisco; farms were left untilled, and the fever of gold floated in the hazy autumnal atmosphere. The state was overrun by a lawless, turbulent element, which at times and cities. obtained the mastery of the lawabiding classes, and controlled not infrequently the machinery of govilous desert, across whose weary waste only intrepid men and women dared to venture. California, under those influences, was not a state of homes, and schools, and churches. but instead the saloon, the gambling hell and the dance-house exerted a powerful and predominating sway. For these reasons the people accepted the grave responsibilities of statehood at a time when they were ill prepared for self-government. Still the experiment, for so the step was regarded by a great majority of the proved a success, and forever swept away what lingering claim Mexico may still have cherished for the territory once held by her authority. contrast to those ruling at the time

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 5.—A Santa Fe, N. M., special to the Republican says: One of the severest snow and wind storms in the history of New Mexico has prevailed for the past three days, and reports are coming in of great damage to live stock in the northern ranges. A number of cowboys and sheep herders have been lost, and it is feared have perished. All trains are from five to twelve hours late, and snowplows are kept in constant operation on the Raton and Gloriota. At Las Vegas eighteen inches of snow covers the ground, and at Socorro and Albuquerque eight inches, which is a most unusual occurrence for that locality of the Rio Grande valley.

"This is the same precinct of the Sixth ward of Petersburg in which, at the late presidential election, by a purposely dilatory process of election (and it is the same now) two hundred odd votes were shut out. This fraud upon the voters of Virginia in that precinct is still going on, there being 200 voters now have been there since 7 o'clock."

IN MARYLAND.

Mr. Murray met a few old-time in Spokane Falls, and was shown alsout the city yesterday. He was a greeably surprised with the evidences of prosperity displayed on every side and the energetic work of the people. He was a caller at the REVIEW office yesterday evening. He had just returned from Western Washington and Portland, he said, and had visited all the cities on the Sound. He

BATTAL FIGHT.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5.—Shortly before the polls closed in the First precinct of the First ward a fight took place between John Apple, fusionist ticket holder, and William Driscoll, a demorate. Apple was knocked down and kicked in the head and was dead when pleked up. Driscoll is held for murder. There were several other assaults, but none of a serious nature.
