BAR BRIEFS

Completion of the new Rules of the Supreme Court, Rules of Pleading and Practice, the General Rules of the Superior Courts, and the Special Rules of the Superior Court of King County, which was being made by the Seattle Bar Association, has been published and copies have been distributed. Any member of the Seattle Bar Association who has not received his copy can procure it at the Executive Offices in the Dexter Horton Building.

Word has just been received that Mr. Thomas Malott, one of the Associate Editors of the State Bar Journal, who formerly practiced in Spokane, has left the State of Washington and is now practicing in San Diego. His present address is Box 721, La Jolla, California.

Mr. Burton A. Kingsbury of the Bellingham law firm of Sather, Livesey & Kingsbury, who has been absent for two years doing special work for the Federal Bureau of Investigation in connection with war-time activities, has resumed the practice of law in Bellingham.

INFORMATION, PLEASE

In our last issue we published a list of those members of the Association whose mail had been returned from their listed addresses.
