Kaneko, Hajime (Professor, Tokyo University) Kyōsei shikko hō (Execution law) Tokyo Kōbundo, 1949. Pp. 296. 300 yen.

IEN-L, WaU-L

Kawashima, Takeyoshi (Professor, Tokyo University) Shoyuken ho no riron (Theory of the law of ownership). Tokyo Iwanami Shoten, 1949 Pp. 354. 330 yen.

The author, a professor of the civil law, objectively analyzes the relationship of modern ownership, to nonmodern (feudal) social relations, specifically in the rural communities.

————— Minpo kaishaku gaku no shomondai (Problems of the civil law dogmatics). Tokyo Kōbundo, 1949 Pp. 276. 300 yen.

The author believes that Japanese lawyers, long under the influence of German scholars, must develop a scientific practical jurisprudence and establish the basis for just and reasonable legislation and interpretation. The book contains four treatises dealing with concrete problems.

IEN-L, WaU-L

————— Nihonshakai no kazokuteki kōsei (Family construction of the Japanese society) Tokyo Gakusei Shobō, 1948. Pp. 297 94 yen.

The base of Japanese society is the family system, here lies the archaic, feudal, precapitalistic character peculiar to Japan. The author analyzes the problem, showing how tenaciously the system exists in the old Japanese mores.

WaU-L

Kimura, Kameji (Professor, Tohoku University, Assistant Professor, Tokyo University). Keiho no kihon gainen (Fundamental conceptions of criminal law) Tokyo Kōbundo, 1948. Pp. 355. 330 yen.

The author is Japan's most earnest advocate of educational punishment. He treats the reforms in the Japanese criminal law under the new constitution, emphasizes the principle of educational punishment by criticizing that of retaliation.

Kubo, Iwataro (Professor, Tokyo Commercial University) Kokusai shihō gairon (Outline of international private law) rev ed. Tokyo Ganshodo, 1949. 360 yen.

One of the very few Japanese books on the subject. Supplement contains a bibliography of Japanese works on conflicts.

IEN-L, WaU-L

Makino, Eiichi (Honorary-professor, Tokyo University) Keiho soron (General provisions of criminal law) 1st ed. Tokyo Yuhikaku, 1948. Pp. 538. 355 yen.

The author is Japan's foremost authority on criminal law. His earlier Criminal law of Japan was written for scholars, in this book he has revised his style so that the principles of criminal law can be understood by beginning students. These lectures, citing cases, make the most authoritative text on criminal law published since the new constitution.

CSt-H, MiU-L, WaU-L

Masaki, Akira (Attorney, ex-lecturer of Tokyo University) Keiji seisaku hanron (General theory of criminal policy) rev ed. Tokyo Yuhikaku, 1948. Pp. 463. 470 yen.

WaU-L

Minobe, Tatsukichi (Late Dean of the Law faculty of Tokyo University). Nihonkoku kenpō genron (Principles of the constitution of Japan) Tokyo Yuhikaku, 1948. Pp. 508. 270 yen.

Dr. Minobe is Japan's most respected constitutional lawyer. A liberal, he was persecuted by the reactionaries in the Japanese fascist regime, particularly for his "emperor-organ" theory. This is a systematic text and enjoys high esteem.

MiU-L, WaU-L

————— Gyōsei hō joron (Outline of the administrative law) Tokyo Yuhikaku, 1948. Pp. 144. 120 yen.

IEN-L, WaU-L
